

History Curriculum

KS3

I understand key skills and language in the study of History

What is History?

I understand why we study History

I can explain the difference History has on the present day

The Civil Rights Movement

The First World War

I can analyse & make a judgement on causation

I can describe the impact of technology on modern warfare

I can make a judgement on the importance of different events

The Second World War

I can use sources to describe different experiences of wartime

I am formulating opinions & constructing an argument

Pre-Norman England

I can describe & compare different periods of English History

I can use sources to analyse the lives of individuals in History

I can describe the positives & negatives of the Empire

The British Empire & the Slave Trade

I can describe the positives & negatives of the Empire

I can analyse change & continuity

I can describe & explain the treatment of women at different periods of History

I can use sources to analyse the lives of individuals in History

Norman England

I understand the concept of power & authority

Making of Modern England & Changing Role of Women

I can describe & explain the impact of fascism on a nation

Weimar Germany

I understand the importance of international relations in the 20th Century

I can describe & analyse change & continuity throughout an extended period of time

The History of Migration

I can explain how nations & societies can be formed

I can compare different periods of History

The Medieval World

I can describe the key factors in the modernisation of a nation

Early Modern Britain

I can analyse the reliability of sources

I can compare & contrast different periods of History

Nazi Germany

I can describe & explain how propaganda can be used

Anglo-Saxon & Norman England

I can describe & analyse change & continuity between two periods of History

I can analyse sources to find out about the past

I understand the impact of Religion on History

The Tudor Period

I can analyse how History can be 'created' to represent a certain ideal

I am making my own judgement to the past using sources

Stuart England

I can understand the importance of political viewpoints in the modern world

Origins of the Cold War

I can understand the importance of political viewpoints in the modern world

I can make a judgement on modern controversial issues

Crises of the Cold War

I can analyse a narrative of a 20th century event

